The Budget

Interest in the budget brought down at Ottawa

yesterday will naturally centre in the fact that taxation is again reduced, and that to a degree

which must exceed all expectations.

Only a year ago Mr. Robb announced a lowering of tariff, income and other rates which was calculated to relieve the tax-payers to the amount of $25,000,000 a year. Probably few imagined that twelve months later there could be a further reduction which would represent any corresponding measure of relief. Yet the changes announced yesterday are computed to mean a saving of $27,000,000 to the public in the course of the coming year.

Quite evidently the Minister of Finance was not "speaking politically" only when he stated

a few months ago that a further reduction of the tax-reducing policy could be looked for at this time if the Government were returned to power.

That announcement was subjected to any discount because made on the subject of a general election, the doubting ones will find their skepticism altogether unwarranted after coming the speech of the Minister. Mr. Robb has not merely kept faith with the letter of his promise, but has gone beyond any reasonable anticipation that could have been based upon it.

Of almost equal importance to the reductions

in taxation is the fact that the Government have made by neglecting the colossal obligations with which the country emerged from war conditions.

While taxes have been cut, the national debt has been cut down. In four years the national debt has been cut down from $1,000,000,000 to less than $200,000,000. An average reduction of more than $250,000,000 per year in the amount upon which interest must be paid.

As a nation, Canada is both paying its debt and lessening the tax burdens of its people. Few countries in the world are doing either to any noticeable extent at present, and it is doubtful if any other country is actually doing both.

The Minister in his speech makes clear how it is possible to accomplish these two seemingly inconsistent undertakings at the same time. There is no necessary relation between the reduction of the "common" sense. The thing was made possible when the Government four years ago began to trim down expenditures to the amount of the income and to conserve the surplus. Economy was the key to the problem, and the only one.

Once the country was living within its means it was possible to apply the balance to reduce the debt or to reduce taxation.

In the happy event it has been found possible to do both, and that the one helps the other.

Every million that is clipped off the debt, and every cent saved in the treasury, means a lower rate of interest, makes less taxation necessary. Every reduction that has been made in taxation has been followed by and has stimulated industry and trade and the lower tax rate has brought an increase in revenue.

That is the history of the whole operation in the budget. The money has not been the product of economies. The Minister deserves all the credit which will undoubtedly be his because of his budget. But he deserves that credit less because he has been able to do it than because of his policy. He has been able to do it because of his policy. He has been able to do it because of his policy. He has been able to do it because of his policy. He has been able to do it because of his policy. He has been able to do it because

I wonder what to think of him.

No fellow with language and with wit.

But away by many a youthful whim

He really is a puzzle to me.

At times I'm sure he puzzles me.

I think of him with anxious mind

But I can't think of him as I wish.

And I allowed to find.

And tamping through his boyhood days.

Laughing, though he's thought to fear.

I look upon his youthful ways

And think him queer.

Yet age and youth can never see

Each other clearly through and through.

Perhaps no doubt he looks at me

And wonders what I do.

As strange to him must seem my ways

As his at times to me appear.

THE REUMATIC DIATHESIS

As we study the hundreds of names of different diseases it is not long before we discover that these different diseases can be grouped into groups and classified according to types. The word "diathesis" means a predisposition to a certain type of disease. Thus we have the tubercular diathesis, the neurotic diathesis, and several others

including the rheumatic diathesis.

Those who suffer from scurvy, arthritis, gout,

joint pains, or even those whose muscles get unusually sore after unusual exertion belong to the distinct type of patient who is inclined to the rheumatic diathesis.

This patient is always extremely toxic and the toxemia is very deeply seated. There is no doubt but in many cases this condition is hereditary, and in Frank McCoy unless the child so handicapped is carefully treated with a systematic house-cleaning he will sooner or later develop some form of rheumatism.

Infection from any source will bring on an acute crisis of the

JASPER SKIERS IN GRUELLING 30 MILE RUN

Third Annual Carnival Away to An Auspicious Start

JASPER, Alta., Feb. 18.—Inaugurating what promises to be the greatest cross-country ski race in North America, seven expert skiers started the 30-mile race at 10 o'clock this morning in the Jasper valley. The race, which is the first of the series, was won by a skier from the Jasper Hotel, who was the first to cross the finish line at five o'clock, eight minutes and 45 seconds.

The race, which marked the opening of the third annual carnival in Jasper, was won by a skier from the Jasper Hotel, who was the first to cross the finish line at five o'clock, eight minutes and 45 seconds. The race, which is the first of the series, was won by a skier from the Jasper Hotel, who was the first to cross the finish line at five o'clock, eight minutes and 45 seconds.

An additional race was formed by the weather conditions. At the start of the race the temperature was about 15 below zero, but it moderated as the race progressed. The race was won by a skier from the Jasper Hotel, who was the first to cross the finish line at five o'clock, eight minutes and 45 seconds.

The carnival proceedings got off to a brilliant start in the evening with the coronation of the queen of the carnival, Miss Margaret Buchanan, by Col. Maynard Rogers, superintendent of the Jasper Hotel. Buchanan, who is 17 years of age, has been a resident of Jasper since she was one year old and her election as queen was distinctly popular.

Following the coronation ceremony there was a fancy dress carnival on the opera house and a billiards and card playing at the Hotel McCarthey. Under the auspices of the Jasper Hotel.

Equality of Income Tax for Saskatchewan

REGINA, Feb. 18.—Extension of the exemption on civic income tax to an equality with the federal tax is provided for in a bill to be introduced in the legislature by Hon. T. C. Davis Thursday. Hitherto the exemption has been $100 for single men and $200 for married men, with a deduction of $100 for each child under 18 years of age. The new bill provides for an exemption of $1,000 for single men and $2,000 for married men, with a deduction of $1,000 for each child under 18 years of age.

Waterloo Dog Derby Was Filled With Surprises

ALTCAR, Lancashire, Eng., Feb. 18.—The Waterloo, the derby of dog racing and the feature of the annual Waterloo meeting here, was today by A. Gordon Smith, the Ontario Seal, which defeated Lord Derby's Terrier in the final. The Ontario Seal, which was a black and white dog, was the favorite of the Waterloo meeting. The Waterloo meeting was a success and was filled with surprises.

Ontario Legislature Endorses Liquor Plan

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—Concluding a brief but particularly warm debate, the Ontario legislature early Thursday evening adopted without a dissenting vote the address in reply to the speech made by the governor in the opening of the session. The legislature also passed a resolution which in effect expressed confidence in the government's liquor control policy and pledged that it would be ready to "advance the interests of true temperance and afford additional safeguards in all cases of the community against the evils of intemperance."

Seeks Assent of His Ontario Marriage

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 17.—W. B. Harvey, of Newburg, Ore., today asked the circuit court to annul his marriage to Mattie Ruston, saying he had learned that his first wife, whom he had heard was dead, was still alive and living at Perth, Ont. Harvey set forth that he married Margaret Ruston at McDonald's, Ontario, in 1911, and that they lived together until 1920, since which time the wife had remained absent. He said he was informed she had died, and he married again July 1 last.

Prof. Bailey failed to appear on a charge of a breach of the Public Health act and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

It Rolled Right In

Three men were hurt when an interurban train ran wild in the streets of Mendocino, Pa., and crashed into the home of a school teacher, as pictured here.

REBEL PRELATE

GEORGE WASHINGTON STEPHENS of Montreal has resigned the leadership of the R.C. clergy governing commission, to which post he was appointed last March. No reason is given for the resignation, which is regarded as bringing a definite Franco-German question before the March session of the League of Nations council.

Mr. Stephens, succeeded former Mayor R. D. Wright, of Winnipeg, as a member of the R.C. clergy governing commission in August, 1922, when Mr. Wright was appointed chairman of the Manitoba government liquor commission.

SMUGGLING OF MANY ARTICLES INTO WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18.—Smuggling of commodities ranging all the way from Scotch whisky to musical instruments and other merchandise into Winnipeg was disclosed by the royal customs commission Thursday. Winnipeg merchants and manufacturers appeared before the commission to testify to the fact that the smuggling of goods into Winnipeg was a serious problem. The commission also heard evidence from the Winnipeg merchants and manufacturers.

There was a complaint from George H. Smith, secretary of the Graphic Arts association, that printed and lithographed matter from the United States did not bear the mark of the country of origin as required by the marking clause of the customs act. The object of the provision was so that Canadian might know whether or not they were purchasing American goods, he said.

Mr. Smith took the ground that every single piece of printed or lithographed paper on a pack for instance, should be labeled. Only in this way would the purpose of the act be carried out. "In other words, you would disfigure every piece of paper that a man writes on in order to protect the home industry," interrupted Chief Commissioner Brown, who did not agree with the proposal.

Charles F. Edmund, president of the Standard-Yale Shoe Company, and also president of the Retail Merchants Association of Winnipeg, declared that there had been a great deal of under-valuing of shoes in Winnipeg. The Retail Merchants Association, he said, also received complaints of the smuggling or under-valuing of ladies' dresses, silk and radio supplies.

Wants Tighter Watch on Vancouver Harbor Board

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—In the House of Commons last night H. H. Stevens (Conservative), Vancouver, brought up the question of placing the accounts of harbor commissions under the auditor-general. Hon. F. J. A. Coadin, minister of marine and fisheries, replied that the matter had been before the house before, and that he thought the public was fairly protected through the audit law.

Mr. Stevens returned that while he had confidence in the harbor commissioners of Montreal and Vancouver, he considered it essential that the house should have more control over expenditure of such bodies.

CANADA MAN QUITS SAAR

GENEVA, Switzerland, Feb. 18.—George Washington Stephens of Montreal has resigned the leadership of the R.C. clergy governing commission, to which post he was appointed last March. No reason is given for the resignation, which is regarded as bringing a definite Franco-German question before the March session of the League of Nations council.

Mr. Stephens, succeeded former Mayor R. D. Wright, of Winnipeg, as a member of the R.C. clergy governing commission in August, 1922, when Mr. Wright was appointed chairman of the Manitoba government liquor commission.

EDMONTON MEN SUBSCRIBE $700

Generous assistance has been given to the Navy League of Canada in its effort to raise $25,000, of which Alberta's share is $2,000, according to Rev. Fred Cook, who has been in the city for the last few weeks soliciting donations and recruiting supporters. The money is to be used in the purchase of a ship to be named after the League. A total of $700 has been contributed by Edmontonians.

British Immigration Flows Toward Canada

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The stream of British migration is again flowing toward Canada and the tide is that direction is more rapid than elsewhere. Hon. W. D. A. Gurney, director-general of immigration, reported in the House of Commons Thursday night when introducing a supplementary estimate of £1,000,000, all of which is to be spent in additional assisted passage to the dominions. The under-secretary stated that in 1925, 38,000 British subjects migrated to the dominions and in 1926 the number increased to 45,000. Last year 12,000 went to America, compared with 22,000 in 1925. 21,000 went to Canada compared with 1,000 the preceding year, and 12,000 went to New Zealand in comparison with 5,000 in 1925.

No Women Ministers to Invade United Church?

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—That women should not be eligible for the ordained ministry of the United Church of Canada was decided in an inter-collegiate debate held here last night and participated in by students from the United Theological College, Montreal, who spoke for the women, and students from Knox and Victoria colleges, Toronto, who were for having women from the ordained ministry. The judges' decision was unanimous.

Sir Oliver Lodge Has
New Theory for Cancer
Associated Press
LONDON, Feb. 18.—The suggestion that cancer may be a microscopic growth, but something of a cancerous growth, in some respects to a kind of "disease" which sometimes affects radio tubes, has been advanced by Sir Oliver Lodge, noted British scientist. Sir Oliver was careful to say, however, that his suggestion was only a hint offered by a layman for what it was worth.

PAGES FROM CANADIAN HISTORY

have both run for twenty-eight years without a single serious mishap. Then in 1866 Steele built for them the Prætorian, of 2,500 tons (40 x 40 x 33), 100 h.p., and in 1870 the Scandinavian, of 2,600 tons (40 x 40 x 33), 100 h.p., both very fine ships, and both still running. In 1894 they also contracted with the Canadian Government for the Scandinavian, 3,647 tons (40 x 40 x 33), larger and larger than any previous ship, and 400 h.p., was launched in 1897. She had four cylinders, two vertical and two horizontal, and proved to be exceedingly fast, but hard on coals. She was chartered by the Imperial Government for the Ashanti expedition of 1897 as a transport, and was selected to carry General Wolley's telegram announcing the capture of the Ashanti capital, Kumasi, in 1897. She was fitted with two compound engines of smaller power, consuming much less coal, and is still a very efficient boat. The other was the Polynesian, launched money in insurance premiums, which must have far more than covered all their losses. To return, Steele's boats being "very" fast, in 1866 they were built by Barclay & Clarke, of Glasgow, for two boats, the Prætorian, of 2,500 tons (40 x 40 x 33), and the Scandinavian, of 2,600 tons (40 x 40 x 33), both 400 h.p. was running a regular and dependable service from Montreal and Quebec to the Old Country, and was the popular Canadian line of its time. The Scandinavian, pictured above, typical of the ships of that period, was built in 1870, of over 3,000 tons, with 500 h.p. engines. Such, in brief, were the beginnings of a trade which, through Canadian foresight and enterprise, now spans the world. Canada's reputation for fine seamanship has been maintained and enhanced by the Canadian Pacific, with its fleet of ocean and coastal steamships totalling 410,644 tons. The Empresses of the Atlantic and of the Pacific have become synonymous with safety, comfort and speed. On their Winter Cruises to various parts of the world, whole shiploads of passengers find them a delightful home for months at a time.
